

Top coaches apply for Ajax job - Comitis

The vacancy at Ajax Cape Town created a media frenzy as speculation to who will be the next Head Coach at Ikamva. George Comitis the CEO at Ajax clarified the situation when he spoke with ajaxct.com.

Speculation as to the identity of the new head coach at Ajax Cape Town has reached fever pitch with every available and not-so available coaches names being linked with the vacant post but George Comitis the Ajax coach is adamant that only a select few are in line for the job.

Comitissaid, “We have watched with great interest as to the media speculation linking numerous coaches’ names with the vacant head coach’s position at Ikamva.

There is a great interest in South African football at this moment, with the World Cup on the horizon coaches from all over the world are keen to come to South Africa. We have had numerous applications from local and international coaches some of them amongst the leading exponents of the game.

Applications arrived at Ikamva from as far as France England Germany Scotland Ireland Serbia and Switzerland as well as those from local coaches.

We have already identified and even head-hunted our choices for the position. Now we have to start the review process in order to finalise our choice of head coach.

The ideal candidate must understand the philosophy and culture of Ajax Cape Town know the South African football landscape understand our style of football and be able to continue with our Youth policy.

At this moment in time we are very happy with Jan Pruijn at the helm and the final decision will not be taken lightly and in a hurry concluded Comitiss.
